Trade Paperback Makes the Grade

A Boy and His Dog Supreme, the latest Ninja High School trade paperback from Eternity, features more of the wacky manga-inspired adventure that made Ben Dunn's Ninja High School so popular with fans everywhere.

This volume reprints Ninja High School #4-#7, featuring the all-powerful Dog Supreme. Ben Dunn has done a new full-color cover for the $9.95 collection, along with a never-before-published map of the town of Quagmire. Look for it in June.

Almost Fifty and Still a Star

Captain America turns fifty later this year--but just because the red-white-and-blue hero is almost a half-century old doesn't mean that he's losing his appeal for comics fans. Quite the contrary: judging from the incredible assortment of Captain America books slated for June release, the good Captain has never been more popular!

The most eagerly awaited Captain America product, especially for long-time comics fans, is the Classic Captain America two-volume hardcover set that reprints the first ten issues of the Golden Age Captain America series. This double-volume slipcased set is the final product of more than two years of preparation for Marvel; the $75 price for the 500+ page set makes it a surprisingly affordable bargain.

The Captain America bisque, a hand-painted limited edition figurine , is also slated for June release. This is the follow-up to the popular Wolverine bisque from last November; like Wolverine, this $49.95 bisque is limited to a maximum of 15,000 copies.

Fans looking for Captain America accessories will have their choice of a button set featuring Kevin Maguire artwork or a t-shirt. Both items are available only in comic shops; you won't see them in every store at the local mall.

And of course, Captain America goes bi-weekly for the summer, so you can see Cap take on the Kingpin & the Red Skull every other week this summer. And of course, Cap is regularly featured in The Avengers as well. Those fans hoping to get in the mood for the 4th of July will find that Marvel has made it surprisingly easy!

Challengers Face Biggest Challenge of All--Reality

The Challengers are four men living on borrowed time. After surviving a plane crash together many years ago, the quartet formed a team to battle against bizarre villains, world-conquering aliens, and life-threatening dangers. Right?

Wrong.

Oh, part of it is true: the Challengers were four men who survived a plane crash. Most of the rest of the Challengers mythos was just fiction, created by comic writers and artists for the licensed Challengers of the Unknown comic book. The real Challengers were too busy managing their careers, selling merchandise rights, and establishing a Challengers theme park.

That rather shocking revelation helps to kick off the new Challengers of the Unknown limited series scheduled to debut in late 1990. In this new eight-issue limited series by Jeph Loeb and Tim Sale, we learn that pretty much everything we knew about the Challengers was wrong--or more precisely, was fictional.

The real Challengers have used their earnings to help fund their own individual interests. Their biggest money-maker is their theme park, built around Challengers Mountain. It continues to bring in the bucks, and to support a small but thriving community built around the tourist industry the park generates.

Then things go very, very wrong.

An explosion in Challengers Mountain destroys the theme park; fifteen hundred innocent civilians are dead. Prof and June are missing. The government has suspicions that experiments conducted by the Challengers caused the explosion--and they intend to put the surviving Challengers on trial.

Will the Challengers be able to restore their good names and reputations? Will anyone discover what happened to Prof and June? Readers will be able to find out in Challengers of the Unknown, an eight-issue limited series that begins later this year. The series writer, Jeph Loeb, may be new to comics, but he's already established himself as a film writer, having scripted Teen Wolf II, Commando, and Burglar. The artist, Tim Sale, is best known for his work on Thieves' World.

Marvel Plays Its Wild Cards In July

What if superheroes really existed on Earth? It's a familiar premise, and one that has been handled very well in such series as Watchmen. But what if our world had more than just a single superpowered being--what if it had many such beings, both good and evil? That's the premise of Wild Cards, a new four-issue bookshelf-format series set to begin publication from Marvel's Epic Comics in late July.

Wild Cards is not an original Epic series; instead, it is based on an extremely popular series of paperbacks that feature Wild Card tales by a variety of talented science fiction writers. Lewis Shiner, one of the editors of the authors and editors of the original paperback series, is overseeing the Marvel bookshelf-format series as well and is writing the first issue (Shiner was also the co-writer on DC's Time Masters series).

In the world of the Wildcards, an alien genetic experiment unleashed across the world in the 1940's has resulted in a small percentage of human beings become empowered with unusual abilities. Some of them are Aces, blessed with wondrous abilities. Others are Jokers, hideously deformed and cursed with strange powers.

In the world of the Wild Cards, superpowers are accepted. The Epic begins with the bombing of Jetboy's tomb; the investigation of this bombing introduces the readers to the origins of many of the Wild Card characters and gives a great deal of background on the alien genetic experiment--more than has ever been revealed in the Wild Card book series.

Wild Cards is designed as a sort of frame story; that is, the search for the bomber of Jetboy's tomb will lead into other stories that focus on different Aces and Jokers. In the first issue, Barry Kitson and Jackson Guice will illustrate two of the stories. Future issues will include the writing of George R.R. Martin, Roger Zelazny, Melinda Snodgrass, and Howard Waldrop and the art of Marshall Rogers, Tom Yeates, Mike Mignola, and Tim Truman (who has also done the covers for the most recent Wild Card paperback releases).

Each 48-page bookshelf-format issue of Wild Cards will be priced at $4.50. The first issue is scheduled for July 26th release.

Magic Flute Is Russell's Latest Noteworthy Project

Eclipse Comics was the first comics company to speculate that there might be an audience for "opera comics." Before DC ever considered adapting Wagner's The Ring to comics form, Eclipse was publishing writer/artist P. Craig Russell's opera adaptations in comics form. This summer, Eclipse shows that it is still interested in this unusual marriage of comics and music: Russell's latest operatic-comics effort, The Magic Flute, is scheduled for release in July.

The Magic Flute is one of the best-known and most enjoyed operas in musical history; in this work by Mozart, the Queen of the Night sets Prince Tamino on a quest to rescue her daughter, Pamina, from the evil Sarastro. This quest ventures deep into the realm of fantasy, makingit a delightful tale for fans who normally don't enjoy opera. The story also works on a deeper, more psychological level, which makes it appealing to those who want to delve beneath the surface.

P. Craig Russell's adaptation of Mozart's The Magic Flute will be published in three 48-page prestige-format volumes, similar to the format it has used for the adaptation of J.R.R. Tolkien's The Hobbit. The first $4.95 full-color volume is scheduled for mid-July release, with the other two issues set to follow in August and September.

Russell began adapting operas to comics in 1984, when he presented to Mahler works, "Unto This World" and "The Drinking Song of Earth's Sorrow." All of Russell's early opera adaptations are scheduled for release in one comprehensive volume entitled Opera; after several delays, the book is finally scheduled for June release. It will include the Mahler songs, Pelleas and Melisande, Salome, and Parsifal.

DREADSTAR'S SWORDED PAST CATCHES UP WITH HIM

Dreadstar has certainly had his share of epic adventures--but none of them have been much more important to his existence than the battle he must face in Dreadstar #60. This issue will pit Dreadstar and his band against the forces of the tyrannical Palafox for the final time. Dreadstar and Junior will face off against one another, armed with their mystic swords, in their pyrotechnic battle royale. According to First Comics, "Someone will die, a familiar face will return, and our 'regular' cast will be irrevocably altered." Peter David and Angel Medina bring the story to life--and to death--in late July.

WHO'D PUT THE BITE ON NAMORITA?

Namorita of the New Warriors makes a guest appearance in the pages of Namor the Sub-Mariner #6--but it's a guest appearance she may regret. In this issue, she joins Namor to do battle with a giant sludge-monster created by mankind's pollution. Things don't go quite as expected, though, and Namorita finds herself becoming lunch for the monster instead. So is it time for New Warriors to hold a membership drive? You'll have to find out on July 5th, when John Byrne's Namor the Sub-Mariner #6 hits the stands (and by the way, if you haven't checked out John Byrne's inks over his own pencils in the most recent issue of Namor, you really should--no one's done a better job of portraying underwater scenes than this!).

THE BELLS ARE RINGING...

Robotech II: The Sentinels Hardcover Volume Two, a June release from Eternity, is a companion volume that picks up where the first hardcover left off. This volume reprints Robotech II: The Sentinels #5 and 6, along with the two issue Robotech II: The Sentinels Wedding Special featuring the marriage of Rick Hunter and Lisa Hayes. The second hardcover will feature a full color dustjacket by Jason Waltrip and a special introduction by the authors; it will be priced at $19.95.

PALLADIUM CAUGHT UP IN RIFTS

Palladium has been busy for the past three years on a major new game project that is set for final unveiling this summer. The new mega-game is entitled Rifts, and is compatible with all Palladium gaming systems, including the hot Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles games. This new mega-system is, according to Palladium, "an all-new self-contained role-playing game which will present complete rules for the coexistence of super-technology, magic, and the supernatural. What will make Rifts different from any other game that has attempted to use these concepts is that its author, Kevin Siembieda, fully intends to take these ideas all the way to their logical conclusions! Although few details can yet be released, Rifts can be described as an exploration of a post-apocalyptic world gone wild." Palladium has been working on Rifts for over three years now; the game will pull in aspects of rules developed for nearly every other RPG in the Palladium line. CSN will bring you more information about price and availability as soon as it's available.

APPLE GOES BEHIND ENEMY LINES

Almost every comic book series set in the Vietnam war brags about its realism--but none of them can be more realistic than High Shining Brass, the story of Bob Durand, is the most realistic of all the Vietnam series--because it's all true! This is the story of a man who found himself forced into working behind enemy lines in Vietnam, living and working like a North Vietnamese soldier, spying under the direction of the CIA! High Shining Brass is a story that the government would just as soon the people never knew about. High Shining Brass is produced by Don Lomax (creator of the critically-acclaimed Vietnam Journal) and Clem Robins, based on extensive interviews with Bob Durand. Because the book will include photographs as well as comics illustration, Apple Comics has chosen to print the book on higher-grade book quality paper stock. As a result, High Shining Brass will carry a $2.75 pricetag and is set for June release.

BASIC BLACK

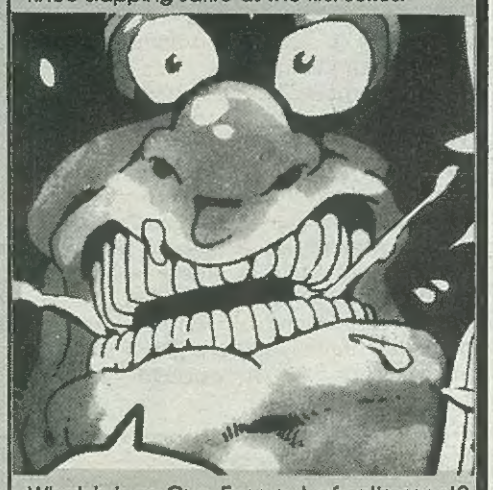
Black Knight #4, the final issue of the limited series by Roy and Dann Thomas, Rich Buckler, and Tony DeZuniga, is more than just a historic overview of the Knight's career. This issue is an important turning point for the Black Knight as well, because it resolves the problem that has left the Black Knight with a body of living stone; you can take it for granite than when it's all over, he'll be back in action, boulder than ever! Naturally, this leaves a perfect opening for a lead-in to a new Black Knight series--but whether that comes about or not, you can be sure that Black Knight #4 will return Black Knight to active status as a hero in the Marvel Universe.

WHO'S WHO TELLS THE HOLE STORY

Who's Who #2 continues the brilliant packaging plan used in Who's Who #1: it contains 24 pre-hole-punched sheets in loose-leaf format, ready to be collected in a ring binder in any order you desire. The second package contains such noteworthy characters as Flash, Flamebird, Metamorpho, Changeling, and Katana; contributing artists include Kevin Maguire, Mark Nelson, Arthur Adams, and Adam Hughes, among others. Who's Who #2, priced at $4.95, is set to hit comics racks on August 2nd.

GUN FURIOUS

Gun Fury, the stalwart superhero spoof created by writer Barry Blair and artist Dave Cooper, returns this summer in a new four-issue limited series appropriately entitled Gun Fury Returns. "Last year, the original Gun Fury may have consistently provided more laughs per issue than any other comic on the stands," Aircel publisher Dave Olbrich said. "Gun Fury Returns will feature the same outrageous, irreverent, gut-level, knee-slapping satire as the first series."



What brings Gun Fury out of retirement? The wealthy industrialist Mr. Lump, who wants Gun Fury and Ammo to help solve New York's most vile problem to date: a veritable plethora of super-heroic maniacal enforcers of justice who are running wild in the city. Lump is willing to put up the money to re-arm Gun Fury and Ammo with the latest high-tech weaponry and vehicles if they will just clean up the city--and he'll even throw in new tights in the bargain! The first issue of Gun Fury Returns hits the comic shops in June; each issue carries a $2.25 pricetag.

CROSSOVERS IN THE GAME PLAN FOR TSR COMICS

TSR Worlds Comics Annual #1, a July release from DC, brings a new concept to the world of TSR-inspired fantasy comics: crossovers! This annual brings together characters from Advanced Dungeons & Dragons, Forgotten Realms, and Dragonlance in an interlocking adventure. The stories are framed by a host story that served to introduce the new Spelljammer series–and that will lead directly into DC's Spelljammer Comics #1.

The 12-page Spelljammer host story is written by Barbara Kesel, with art by Michael Collins. The 20-page AD&D story is produced by Mishkin, Duursema, and Magyar; the 20-page Dragonlance story is produced by Mishkin, Randall, and Elliott; and the Forgotten Realms 20-pager is created by Grubb, Morales, and Simons. The Annual features a painted cover by fantasy artist Larry Elmore, whose work has been featured on the cover of many TSR books and modules. The 80-page new-format TSR Worlds Comics Annual #1 is priced at $3.95 and scheduled for July 19th release.

Two weeks later, Spelljammer Comics 1 debuts. This $1.75 new-format comic is produced by the same Barbara Kesel-Michael Collins team that did the framing sequence for the TSR Comics Annual. Spelljammer takes place in a universe in which the rules of magic dictate the prevailing structure and order of reality. Entire solar systems exist inside of huge spheres, floating on highly flammable Phlogistan. Living spaceships venture among the stars within their own atmospheres. One such ship is the Spelljammer Jr. These ships provide the transportation that will allow crossovers between the various worlds of the TSR Universe.

Spelljammer focuses on the crew of the Spelljammer Jr. One crew member, Jasmine, has already been introduced in the pages of Forgotten Realms #19-21. The first issue of Spelljammer is slated for August 2nd release.

NOW REFLECTS ON THE PROMISE OF MIRRORWALKEER

Mirrorwalker, a new series by Marv Wolfman, Barry Peterson, and Erich Schrempp, is an unusual merger of comic art, special effects photography, and animation. The hero, Alan Nonsense, is an ordinary man with the extraordinary ability to walk through mirrors. This ability can take him anywhere–through time, space, every dimension...everything is as open to him as any doorway. Since the book will make use of a great deal of photography to give it an unusual look, Now Comics is printing it on high-gloss stock to capture the richness in tone and illusion. As a result of the higher quality paper, Mirrorwalker will be priced at $2.50 per issue. Look for the debut issue in early July.

BLOOD OF DRACULA 17 A WRIGHTSON DOUBLE-HEADER

Bernie Wrightson fans will want to add Blood of Dracula #17 to their must-have list; not only will this issue feature another installment of Wrightson's Lost Frankenstein Pages, but it will also lead off with an all-new Bernie Wrightson cover. According to Apple Comics, this is "a true rarity--Berni's done only one other Dracula piece in his entire career!" Of course, Blood of Dracula will also continue the two Dracula storylines, Count Dracula by Mike McCarthy and Dracula 2199. Look for it in June.

BLACK BIRD GETS COLORFUL PORTFOLIO

The Crow, Jim O'Barr's creation who has starred in his own limited series for Caliber Press, will also star in his own color portfolio in early June. "This is truly a product that has been heavily requested by the fans, so we felt we had to do it," said Caliber publisher Gary Reed.

The Crow portfolio will feature six 11" x 14" full-color plates; five of the plates will feature the illustrations for the covers of the limited series, while the sixth will be an all-new piece done specifically for the portfolio. The portfolio illustration will also feature an original black-and-white illustration.

The Crow Color Portfolio will be limited to 2000 signed and numbered copies. The portfolio will be priced at $24.95, and is the first in a series of limited edition portfolios from Caliber.

THIS ONE'LL KILL YA

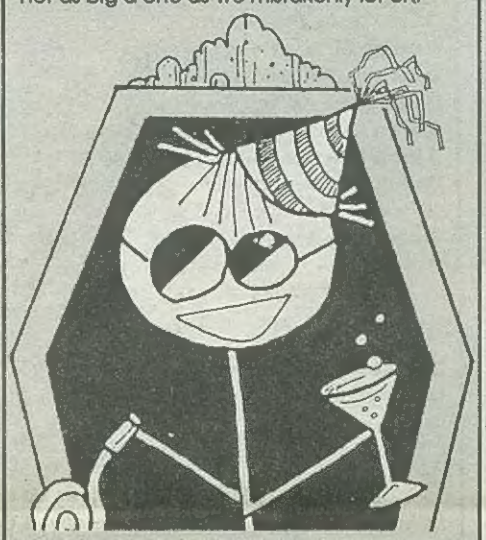
Thanos has been a very active participant in the Jim Starlin storyline appearing in the pages of Silver Surfer–but nowhere nearly as active as he is in the pages of his own limited series, Thanos Quest: For The Love of Death. This two-issue limited series, set to debut on July 5th, picks up where Thanos' appearances in Silver Surfer left off and features appearances by a veritable who's who of Marvel's cosmic characters, including Order, Chaos, and the In-Betweener.

The Thanos Quest is produced by the writer-artist team of Jim Starlin and Ron Lim (the same team responsible for Silver Surfer's increased popularity in 1989); it is inked by John Beatty. Jim Starlin will supply the painted cover for both issues. The storyline features the mad Thanos and his battle against the Elders of the Universe for the possession of the legendary soul gems. Thanos aims to use the gems to wipe out the population of half the known universe and finally prove himself equal to his lover, Death. Thanos Quest #1 will hit the comics racks on July 5th; each issue will be priced at $4.95.

WHAT A DIFFERENCE A LITTLE NUMBER MAKES...

CSN has already told you about the upcoming Death of Anti-Social Man epic mini-comic set for July release. The book features the untimely toxic-waste-death of the Most Obnoxious Man Alive, and is a must-have item at only $6.95 for the regular softcover and $35 for the limited signed-and-numbered hardcover. Making that hardcover edition an even better bargain is the inclusion of a Matt Feazell original sketch in each and every copy. However, Eclipse ran into a little problem when they sent out information about this book...

"In our July 1990 Eclipse Extra! we...er... dropped the '3' and kinda listed the limited edition at $5.00. Sucha deal! So good, in fact, that... well... we... uh, y'know... can't really offer it," Greg Baisden, editor of The Death of Anti-Social Man, said. "We think the signed and numbered edition–with an original Feazell sketch!–is a bargain–but, well, not as big a one as we mistakenly let on."



Typos happen–but even at $35, this limited edition is a pretty good deal--after all, you're getting 104 pages of earth-shattering comics adventure and an original Matt Feazell sketch for scarcely more than you'd pay for a sketch alone at a convention! If you want one of the limited edition volumes, be sure to let your local comic shop know as soon as possible--and tell 'em that CSN sent you...

KLOWN SHOCK READY TO ROCK

Klown Shock, the new four-issue limited series from Tommy Pons and Northstar Productions, might look familiar to heavy-metal fans. That might be due to the fact that the main character of the book, Bill Z. Bubb, is the mascot to the heavy metal band Dangerous Toys. In fact, the limited series is written and drawn by Tommy Pons, who is a CBS recording artist and a member of the band, making Klown Shock a true merger of comics and rock music. Each issue of Klown Shock will be priced at $2.50.

DR. RADIUM IS (RADIO)ACTIVE AGAIN

Dr. Radium, Scott Saavedra's cult-favorite hero, is back in action again this June in his own 48-page squarebound $3.95 special, Dr. Radium and the Gizmos of Boola Boola. This new adventure finds Dr. Radium stranded on a desert island without his beloved science; even worse, the inhabitants of the island of Boola Boola want to make Roy their king! This self-contained storyline will be especially enjoyable to those who have already caught on to the lure of Dr. Radium, but even those who aren't hip to the good Doctor's adventures can enjoy this stand-alone adventure.

THE MARVEL SUPER HEROES HAVE ARRIVED

Marvel Super-Heroes, the 4-times-yearly 80-page anthology title featuring all-new solo stories of various Marvel heroes, joins in the celebration of Captain America's half-century anniversary by cover-featuring the good Captain on its third issue's cover. Captain America also leads the book in a story by Fingeroth, Hartle, and DeZuniga; this tale unites Captain America and Dominic Fortune in an adventure set in War II. Captain Marvel, Wasp, Speedball, and Blue Shield are also featured in this issue; nostalgia fans will be particularly pleased to hear about the Hulk story, though. This Hulk adventure is illustrated by classic Hulk artist Steve Ditko and inked by Marshall Rogers. Look for Marvel Super-Heroes #3, a $2.95 comic, on July 10th.

CSN JUNE

The Complete June Checklist is a listing of scheduled titles and the dates that they should arrive in comics shops across the country. That doesn't mean that the books will always be in your shop on the date listed: some publishers ship from different parts of the country, and the farther away the publisher is from your local comic shop, the longer it will take the books to get to you. Publishers are sometimes forced to reschedule titles, and that might result in some date changes on some releases.

Each entry presents the title and number of the book, followed by the release date; if a title doesn't have a scheduled release date (some publishers merely say that their books will ship in June without giving a date), we don't give you a date. After that is the Publisher of the comic and the price. If a book you're looking for is on the index and doesn't arrive in a week or two after the date, be sure to ask the friendly folks at your comics shop; they may be able to update you on schedule changes that have affected that book.

Hang on to this list! It presents the titles that are supposed to ship in June.

BATMAN™ by Loebs, Infantino & Nyberg

HOPING TO TRAP THE JOKER, BATMAN IS SURPRISED AND CAPTURED..
JUST DON'T YOU MOVE, MR. BATMAN.
LOEBS, CINFA & NYBERG
5-21-90
YEAH. OR WE'LL CUT YOU GOOD!
I ASSUME THIS MEANS THE JOKER IS GONE?
AND IF YOU'RE GOING TO WAVE THAT THING AROUND, USE IT... OR PUT IT AWAY!
I ASSUME YOU KNOW THE JOKER BROKE YOU OUT OF PRISON, SO HE COULD RIDE TO POWER ON A WAVE OF TERROR.
NO, BUT SO WHAT?
LOEBS, CINFA & NYBERG
5-22-90
I WAS IN THE JOINT TEN YEARS. NOBODY CARED IF I DID THE CRIME. WHY SHOULD I CARE NOW?
YOU'RE SAYING YOU'RE INNOCENT?
NOBODY'S INNOCENT, MAN.
THE JOKER WILL USE YOU MEN TO PLUNGE THIS CITY INTO CLASS WAR.
AS LONG AS I'M ON THE WINNIN' SIDE, MAN.
ENOUGH TALK! TIME T'DO HIM AND SPLIT!
5-23-90
LET'S DANCE IN THE DARK, SPUD.
THEY VANISH INTO THE SHADOWS...
HEY!
LOEBS, CINFA & NYBERG
SPUD! WHERE ARE YOU?
BATMAN TOOK HIM... BUT WHERE ARE THEY?
5-24-90
THE BATMAN COULD BE ANYWHERE...
SPUD!
LOEBS, CINFA & NYBERG
AS YOU HAVE SURVIVED THE JOKER'S TRAP, SIR, WILL YOU BE IN FOR THE REST OF THE EVENING?
NO, ALFRED.
LOEBS, CINFA & NYBERG
5-25-90
I STILL HAVE TO WARN HARVEY DENT.
YESSIR.
AND THE FACT THAT MR. DENT HATES AND DESPISES THE BATMAN?
THAT WILL MAKE IT HARDER.
QUIET NIGHT, BERT?
YEP. SO FAR.
LOEBS, CINFA & NYBERG
5-26-90

I HOPE WE KNOW WHAT WE ARE DOING TONIGHT, MASTER BRUCE.

WELL, LOOK WHAT I FOUND. THE BOSS SAID THERE MIGHT BE COPS, BUT HE DIDN'T SAY NOTHIN' ABOUT TRICK OR TREAT!

THAT'S OKAY. I LIKE T'KILL BATS!
